

Home

Captured
6/30/2010

Organised dog fighting is believed to be on the increase among some young British Asians. Dog fighting is a long-established tradition in parts of Pakistan but here in the UK, it is being linked to other violent criminality - with drug money being used to wage bets on the outcome of the fight. Amardeep Bassey investigates.

INSIDE THE WORLD OF DOG-FIGHTING

The RSPCA tells Amardeep Bassey about its fears over the growing problem of illegal dog-fighting in the UK Asian community.

Read more on the BBC News website

BROADCAST

Thu 30 Jul 2009 20:00 BBC Radio 4

MORE DETAILS

A programme from

The Report

Duration

30 minutes

MORE FROM BBC RADIO 4

Factual

Bassey, Amardeep

animal welfare

animals

dogs