67 cases, over 200 plaintiffs, one unconstitutional mandate, and the go-to page for it all

The Becket Fund for Religious Liberty led the charge against the Administration's unconstitutional HHS mandate—which forces many religious organizations to violate their deeply held religious beliefs, or pay crippling fines. The Becket Fund applauds the other courageous defenders who have stepped forward and filed additional suits in defense of America's first freedom. The Becket Fund currently represents: Hobby Lobby, Wheaton College, East Texas Baptist University, Houston Baptist University, Colorado Christian University, the Eternal Word Television Network, Ave Maria University, and Belmont Abbey College.

Today there are 67 cases and over 200 plaintiffs representing hospitals, universities, businesses, schools, and people all speaking with one voice to affirm the freedom of religion guaranteed in the Constitution.

All HHS cases are listed below in chronological order (Becket Fund and non-Becket Fund cases).
