Hirschbach is a refrigerated carrier holding both common and contract carrier authority. The primary market areas extend from the upper Midwest to and from the South, Southeast and Northeast.

During the mid-1930's, Ray Hirschbach founded Hirschbach with a single truck and the basic philosophy that providing specialized, economical, on-time truck transportation service would create success not only for his company, but also for his customers. Skeptics became believers as Hirschbach transported bananas to the upper Midwest from customers in the Gulf ports. His excellent delivery record and the care he gave each load greatly impressed his customers.

Hirschbach's reputation for personal service spread and the company's growth accelerated rapidly. Manufacturers and producers, who had once relied exclusively on rail transportation, recognized Hirschbach's uncommon ability to provide for their specialized needs and economical, on-time service.

"Best of The Best" Drivers

Perhaps the top honor bestowed on anyone at Hirschbach is when they are deemed "Best of the Best." Just like the name implies a driver who is named the "Best of the Best" at Hirschbach is at the pinnacle of their driving career. They have achieved a level of excellence that sets them head and shoulders above the majority of professional drivers. To achieve this heralded honor a select group of nominees is brought before a review panel who ultimately choose the winner or in some years multiple winners. The award recipients receive the exciting news at an annual driver recognition event. "Best of the Best" award recipients have a distinctive decal placed on their truck and receive distinguished apparel that tells the world they are one of the best drivers on the road today.

Office Personnel

Hirschbach employs over 100 dedicated office, maintenance, and management personnel who make sure our drivers have the resources, credentials, and equipment they need to do the very best job possible. Shippers count on Hirschbach to get their freight where it needs to go safely and on time. The partnership between drivers and the people at Hirschbach who support them is critical to our success. Hirschbach recognizes employees for outstanding effort and for reaching longevity milestones with our company.
