

The N.C.E.

Advocacy, Information & Service.

RESOURCE CENTER

Self Employment Center»
Retirement Planning»
Career Development»
Employee Rights»
Action Center»

HOME
ABOUT
BENEFITS
JOIN
E-MEMBERS
NEWS ARCHIVE
CONTACT US

Welcome to The NCE

The N.C.E. stands for the National Congress of Employers

A national association that represents America's small and medium sized businesses via networking, advocacy, and information sharing.

Our Mission

Advocacy, Education & Benefits

The NCE seeks to provide its members with reliable services, resources, and benefits regardless of one's circumstances or means.

Need For Change

The self-employed and "Micro-Businesses" make up more than half of all businesses in the United States

Roughly forty-one million Americans go without healthcare every day. Families of the self-employed, or those working for small businesses, make up sixty percent of that total.

Our News Feed

Staying On Top: Competitive Small Business

Unless you have a very unique product or service, chances are that sooner or later, your small business is going to have to face some competition. Although the economy is on the upswing, many consumers are being a little more careful where their dollars are spent. In order to stand out among the sea of businesses [...]

Read more»

Does a Decrease in Entrepreneurial Activity Show That the Economy is Improving?

Over the last few years the Kauffman Index of Entrepreneurial Activityâ€“which uses data from the US census and statistics from the Bureau of Labor to map out new businesses across the countryâ€“has shown a decreasing trend in start-up businesses. According to many economists, this might show that the job market is getting stronger.

Here are the [...]

Read more»

4 Booming Businesses for Entrepreneurs

If you are looking to start up your own small business the time might be right as small business owners had an average revenues of $44,000 in 2011. But if you don't already have a passion other than entrepreneurship, starting a small business of your own might be tricky. What industry should you go into? Here is a [...]

Read more»

Should You Hire Independent Contractors

In recent years, hiring workers as independent contractors seemed to catch on. It allows small businesses to hire a lot of workers without having to worry about things like over-time and benefits. However, this business model seems to be fading amongst new start-up small businesses and there are many reasons why such as creating a [...]

Read more»

The Basics of Web Advertising

Follow Us

Get Informed

Our Issues & Agenda

- »Health Overview
- »Retirement Overview
- »Tax Overview
- »Unemployment Overview
- »Wage Overview

Employment, Business, Legal & Retirement Information

With our enhanced website, the NCE not only provides extensive information on legal rights, we also offer advice on business and employment. To keep members educated on the issues affecting their career and retirement preparations, the latest in news is available at all times.

Professional Business Advice

Members receive advice from some of the best legal, financial, taxation and political professionals in the Country on topics vital to the successful operation of a small business.

10/16/2015

Word of mouth can only get your business so far. Whether you have a brick and mortar location, an online store, or some combination of both, a web ad campaign is a great way to advertise your small business with a modest budget. When starting a new web ad campaign, it is important to understand [...]

Read more»

The N.C.E. has created a completely portable package of benefits.

Sign Up

Request More Info

HOME

ABOUT

BENEFITS

JOIN

E-MEMBERS

NEWS ARCHIVE

CONTACT US

Virtual Tours & Website Design - BlueRavenStudios.com

