Kenneth M. Vorrasi is a partner and co-chair of the Antitrust Practice Group. Ken dedicates his practice to antitrust and complex commercial litigation.

Ken's antitrust practice focuses on litigation, merger and conduct investigations before the FTC, DOJ, and state enforcement authorities, and counseling on a variety of antitrust issues. Ken represents clients in complex litigation in federal and state court, represents clients in government investigations, and appears before the federal antitrust agencies to obtain clearance of mergers, acquisitions, and joint ventures.

He also advises clients on a broad range of antitrust issues including competitor collaborations and joint ventures, information exchanges and pre-closing conduct, and pricing and distribution strategies.

Ken advises clients in a variety of industries, including health care, hardware and software, technology, and pharmaceutical. In health care, Ken works with hospitals and health systems to obtain antitrust clearance of strategic transactions and has shepherded clients through their responses to "second request" investigations and civil investigative demands before the FTC and DOJ. Additionally, Ken litigates merger cases brought by the antitrust agencies.

Ken has been recognized by SuperLawyers the past two years as a Rising Star for Antitrust Litigation.

Ken is a member of the ABA's Antitrust and Litigation Sections. He currently serves as Vice Chair of the Antitrust Section's Program's Committee and is a former Vice Chair of the Federal Civil Enforcement Committee. Ken has lectured on antitrust law at George Washington University. Legal Bisnow named Ken in 2008 one of Washington, DC's "30 Under 30."
