WCI gets new warden

Jan 12, 2016

Waupun Correctional Institute is receiving a new warden after Division of Adult Institutions administrator Cathy Jess announced various leadership changes within the department.

Current WCI warden Bill Pollard will move to the warden position at Dodge Correctional Institution, replacing Marc Clements who was recently appointed Division of Adult Institution assistant administrator.

Clements began his career as a corrections officer at Waupun Correctional in June 1981 and worked his way up to deputy warden at Dodge Correctional in 2009. He was promoted to warden at Fox Lake Correctional in 2011 and became warden at Dodge Correctional in 2014.

Current Green Bay Correctional Institution warden Brian Foster will be replacing Pollard as warden of WCI. The changes are effective immediately.
