William Sobczyk

A seventh detainee at Cook County Jail has died from apparent complications related to the coronavirus.

William Sobczyk, 53, died Monday at Stroger Hospital, where he had been hospitalized since April 18 after developing complications from COVID-19, the Cook County sheriff's office said in a statement.

An autopsy found he died of pneumonia and a COVID-19 infection, with hypertension and cardiovascular disease listed as contributing factors, according to the Cook County medical examiner's office. His death was ruled natural.
