The Rule Of Law

"The moral and legal authority of the Constitution comes from those who ratified it - we the people - not those who wrote it." - Thomas Sowell

There is a social contract between Americans based on personal freedom and representative democracy. This started with the Declaration of Independence and was extended with our Constitution and the Bill Of Rights. Today there is a war being waged to replace our contract with the rule of judges.

➡ Is Blago Judge Protecting Obama?

String of Curious Rulings in Corruption Trial Raise Questions about Judge's Motives

by Jerry McGlothlin - Attributed July 1st, 2010 - Special Guests

In April, Judge James Zagel was presented with a motion to subpoena Barack Obama by Rod Blagojevich's defense lawyers. The redacted motion showed a very strong argument for Obama's testimony; it was made even more compelling when a software glitch revealed all the omitted words on the internet, making it available to everyone. A primary request within the subpoena motion was the transcripts of a two hour interview between then president-elect and the FBI after Blagojevich's arrest in December of 2008.

Zagel denied the motion. Blagojevich's team then requested summaries of the interview; that too was denied. Had that been the only instance of a questionable ruling, Zagel may have deserved the extension of some grace relative to his discretion. However, there have been several instances where his rulings and / or comments seemed to benefit no one but Obama.

Is anyone surprised that a liberal judge would bend the law for political reasons?

Our courts are corrupt. There is no justice in America.
